

Julie Rothman

Julie Rothman was an underrated player during his era. But he was an excellent 1-wall masters doubles player, especially from the right side.

From there he could power his serve deep to provide a strong left side player like Joe Danilczyk, with whom Julie sometimes partnered, with set-ups for easy kills. He hit hard during the volley and was not given to unforced errors. From 1971 to 1974 he won three USHA National Masters 1-Wall Doubles Championships and one National Doubles Runner-up position.
